ALL TREMPLEAU VALLEY IS PRIZE

WINONA GETS VAST TRADE

RICH TOWNS WANT CHANGE

Large District Seeking La Crosse
Outlet Opposed by Roads to Save N. W. Feeder.

What does it mean to La Crosse to secure the trade of from 15,000 to 30,000 people now trading and marketing exclusively in Winona?

Does it not mean, at a conservative estimate, an increase of from 5 to 10 per cent of the total trade enjoyed by La Crosse?

The readjustment of the train schedules of the Green Bay and Northwestern roads, to accommodate the people of the Trempealeau valley seeking access to La Crosse, means a business association between the city and 30,000 people who now are identified with the Winona, Minn., trade area for the one reason that the railroads so run their trains as to make coming to La Crosse from Trempealeau tedious, and returning to the Trempealeau valley the same day impossible.

Rich Country Affected.

The towns and villages affected by the schedules in question are those along the Green Bay railroad from Marshland to Merrillan, including Hixon, Taylor, Blair, Whitehall, Independence and Dodge. They have a total population of about 10,000 people, and Trempealeau county has 30,000, most of whom at least occasionally must seek a larger market than their home town or village. They prefer La Crosse to Winona, because it is a larger and better market, and because it is a Wisconsin city. But they cannot get to La Crosse and back the same day. They can to Winona, and scores of them daily are trading in that city.

A Useless Delay.

Passengers coming to La Crosse from any of these towns along the Green Bay road change to the Northwestern at Marshland, where they are forced to wait 45 minutes. Had the Green Bay train schedule brought it to Marshland five minutes earlier, and had the Green Bay train gone on five minutes' ride to East Winona, the passengers could have transferred to the Burlington and gone immediately into La Crosse on a train which, under the present schedule, they must stand at Marshland and see go by under their noses but a stone throw away.

FLURRY DOESN'T AFFECT LA CROSSE

The trouble on Wall street has not effected La Crosse in proportion to other cities, situated farther west. Omaha, Chicago and Nebraska markets were affected nearly 10 per cent in the prices of hogs and beef, but there has been only a reduction of about 5 per cent in the La Crosse market. The market for hogs dropped about two weeks ago and again this week, but this was caused mostly by an overstocking of the local market, the trouble of Wall street having little effect.

The price of butter and provisions took a drop a week ago, but this was caused by the stocking up on the higher grades of butter and the price was reduced to clear the markets. Manager Snell of the Bickel Produce company stated today that the Wall street trouble would not effect the La Crosse market and the prices would remain about stationary.

SHOOTING AFFRAY NEAR STODDARD

John Pfeiffer and Frank W. Dubina, who have been camping for the past few days at Stoddard, yesterday in a saloon in Stoddard. It is said that Dubina cut Pfeiffer in the forehead with a knife whereupon the latter shot at Pfeiffer.

The officials at Stoddard had not heard of the story today, but as Mr. Schubert, one of the party, who has been up here and has returned to the campers gives credence to the story, it is believed that the men must have been badly injured and are now being cared for at Stoddard.

GONE 12 YEARS; DIES PENNILESS

AUGUST GRUPP LEFT HERE
MANY YEARS AGO.

NEWS OF HIS DEATH TODAY

Former Machinist Whose Family
Has Missed Him for Over a Decade Succumbs in Penna.

Twelve years after August Grupp, a machinist, left La Crosse for unknown climes, a newspaper reporter today informed his widow, Mrs. Katherine Grupp, 1328 State street, of his death in Allegheny, Pa., a few days ago of pneumonia and pleurisy.

In all that time the woman had been unaware of the whereabouts of her husband, and raised her family of three children and is now in prosperous circumstances.

The story of the location and death of Grupp transpired today through a letter received by the La Crosse police from Dr. George Metzger of Allegheny, whose aged father had cared for Grupp during his last illness, because they came from the same place, Donsdorf, Wertenberg, in Germany. His death occurred in the Allegheny general hospital. Although Grupp died without resources all expenses were paid by the older Metzger.

The local police today received the letter from Allegheny, reciting the details of the man's death, and asking that his family, which resided in La Crosse, be looked up and informed of the demise of the man. Grupp was mentioned in the letter as "Krupp," but his widow fully identified him as the former La Crosse machinist.

Since the disappearance of Grupp Mrs. Grupp has lived with her mother on State street.

Speaking of her husband today Mrs. Grupp said that she had known nothing of his whereabouts since he left here twelve years ago, and was unaware of his location at this time. She said that some time ago foreign relatives of her husband sent word that there was a sum of money due him in Germany, but being unable to locate the man they kept the money, refusing to give it to his children, being unsatisfied of his death. She says that these relatives will no doubt gladly pay the Pennsylvania man for his kindness to her husband in his last illness.

Dr. Metzger says Grupp lived in the vicinity of Allegheny for the past eleven years, following his trade of machinist. Therefore the man must have gone almost directly east after leaving his family here.

FINANCIAL QUIET REIGNS EVERYWHERE

CHICAGO, Oct. 29.—No evidence of yesterday's run on the Hibernian bank was visible this morning. About fifty depositors appeared at the bank seeking information, but none wanted to withdraw their money.

The whole situation is in excellent shape and while business is not expected to recover in a day, the flurry is regarded as a closed incident.

New York All Right.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—A more even tone than has yet been experienced pervaded the financial district today, and a steady recovery in all business lines is indicated. The only excitement in the east today was in Jersey City, where a run was started on the Provident Institute for savings by Slavs and Poles. The police were called out to keep the excited foreigners quiet.

MRS. HARTJE'S ANSWER.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 29.—Mrs. Hartje's answer to her husband's petition for a reopening of their divorce case, filed last week, was made public today. She makes a sweeping denial of all charges of her sister, Ida Scott, and filed additional affidavits declaring the letter to which Hartje's attorneys attached so much importance was dictated. Howard Lappe, her former sweetheart, Hartje is trying to have his wife's answer stricken from the record.

ESCH'S BILLS ARE TOWARD THAT END

LOCAL CONGRESSMAN WANTS
COMPULSORY BLOCK

ASKS WRECKS INVESTIGATED

Will Push Legislation at Coming Session Promoting Safety in Railway Travel.

Compulsory establishment of the block system on all lines of railroad and investigation of railroad wrecks by the interstate commerce commission are two of the important measures being framed by Representative John J. Esch of this city for introduction in the next session of congress, which convenes next month.

The new legislation proposed by Mr. Esch is along the general line he has been fostering for the promotion of safety in railroad travel and for final federal supervision of railroad traffic in the United States.

Besides his bill for the compulsory installation of the block signal system on all railroads doing an interstate business, he will also reintroduce his bill making it a duty of the interstate commerce commission to make a thorough investigation of all wrecks of consequence, thereby determining the cause and to find the weaknesses in the present system. In the past the railroads have made reports to their own liking and without supervision.

Another measure of importance to the northwest, which will be taken up by Mr. Esch, is the matter of the location of the national military and rifle range either at Sparta or Camp Douglas, Wis.

The Compulsory Block.

"The bill I believe to be of much importance to the public," said Mr. Esch in discussing the proposed legislation, "is the compulsory installation of the block signal system. My bill will provide that the block system be used on all lines doing an interstate business, and upon all the branches of such lines, except minor spurs where there is but one locomotive, and where collisions would therefore be impossible.

On Space Basis.

"We have laws compelling the use of the patent coupler and the air brake, and I believe it is of vastly more importance that we have a law safeguarding the traveling public by the use of the block system. In the past, and with the old system, the keystone of railroad safety was 'time.' Everything was, and in many instances where the old systems are used, is yet, operated on 'time,' an hour's wait in a bleak station at Marshland, the visitor from Trempealeau valley thinks of returning. Not that day! The northbound

MRS. ANNA ELUMER DIES AT 74 YEARS

The funeral will be held from the residence Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. Andreas will conduct the services and interment will take place at Oak Grove cemetery.

Mrs. Mary Gittens, an old resident of Pine Creek, died yesterday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. Johnson, on the North Ridge at the age of 81 years. Deceased has been in poor health for the past few years and the cause of her death was old age. She was a widow and leaves several children to mourn her loss.

The funeral will be held tomorrow morning at 10:30 from the Catholic church at La Crosse, Rev. J. Dolle conducting the services. Interment will take place at the Pine Creek Catholic cemetery.

JURY DECLARES CALE IS GUILTY

MUST PAY $98.25 FOR HIS ASSAULT ON WOMAN

HE STRUCK MRS. H. LINN

First Sealed Verdict Ever Returned in County Court Is Opened by Judge Today

Fred Cale, former merchant policeman, charged with assault and battery by Mrs. Henrietta Linn on Sept. 4, was found guilty as charged by a jury in county court at 8 o'clock last night, after a trial of an entire day. A sealed verdict, the first ever delivered in county court, was returned when the decision was reached, and opened at 9 o'clock this morning.

After the verdict was announced at 9 o'clock today, Judge Brindley fined Cale $25 and costs. The costs are $73.25, making a total of $98.25, which Cale must pay. Forty-five days in the county jail was the optional penalty. Notice of appeal to circuit court was filed immediately by Attorney A. C. Wolfe, counsel for Cale, and a hunt started for bondsmen for the convicted man.

Judge Brindley held that the first blow delivered by Cale was warranted in self defense. Cale struck this woman with his fist, causing a black eye upon the countenance of Mrs. Linn. He testified that he struck the blow with his entire force. When Mrs. Linn grabbed his arm, Cale delivered another stinging blow with his "billy," with all "his might," causing a second bruise.

The jury held that the second blow was unwarranted, because Cale saw that the woman was unarmed, and could not injure him. It was upon this count that the defendant was found guilty and the heavy fine imposed.

The costs in the case also are heavy, because of the previous trial, two juries and the court fees. The jury at the former trial disagreed, and Cale was given his freedom temporarily.

Much conflicting testimony was given during the trial. Mrs. Linn swore to one thing, and her witnesses corroborated her statements, while the Cale cohorts swore to opposite facts. The alleged assault occurred in front of the Hotel Bronson, 209 Pearl street. Mrs. Linn had made statements, which reached Cale, that she would kill the defendant, because, she said, he abducted her daughter "Queenie." The girl is still missing.

BOY HUNTER BADLY INJURED.

NEW RICHMOND, Wis., Oct. 29.—Fred Legrid, aged 15, of Alden, probably fatally wounded himself while hunting.

M'MILLAN ESTATE ACCOUNTING BEGUN

JUDGE BALDWIN TAKES UP THE CASE TODAY

TRUSTEES MUST SHOW BOOKS

Accounting Will Require That all Dealings Having to do With Estate in Late Years be Told

An accounting of the estate of the late D. D. McMillan was started this morning before Attorney C. L. Baldwin, appointed referee by Judge Fruit. An accounting is being held, pursuant to a decision of Judge Fruit in favor of Samuel McMillan, one of the heirs of the McMillan estate, and Frank Atkinson, administrator, who sued the McMillan company, consisting of W. W. Cargill, John M. Holley, Sr., and E. W. Warner for the accounting.

Judge Fruit rendered a decision in favor of Samuel McMillan and Atkinson. The McMillan estate is valued at over $100,000. When McMillan failed he gave his property in La Crosse, consisting of the present McMillan building, and other properties in the city, to cover his indebtedness, created by the endorsement of notes. The property was valued at $95,000 at the time, but has increased in value since that time.

Attorney A. E. Bleekman, for the plaintiffs, contended that the instrument was a mortgage, and that any residue realized from the estate after the payment of the debts, was the property of the heirs. The defendants, Cargill, Warner and Holley declared the instrument made as actual transfer and that they were entitled to the property. Judge Fruit held that the instrument was simply a mortgage, and that an accounting be held, and the plaintiffs receive over $95,000.

This accounting was started today. It is expected that the remainder of the week will be consumed in the work. Account books, showing all moneys received from the estate in the last ten years, the sale of properties and rents, must be produced before the referee.

Attorney A. E. Bleekman, Jr., and George W. Bunge represent the plaintiffs, while Attorneys Woodward & Lees are appearing for the defendants.

MISS WITHERSPOON VOTE 16,921.

Owing to an error in the published tabulation of the standing of contestants in The Tribune's voting contest, that of Miss Susie Witherspoon, 222 Rose street, was given as 11,196. Her final of 3,725 had not been added, and the total accredited to her should have been 16,921.

SLAYERS QUAVERS, PROMPTLY KILLED

"BLACK HAND" KILLS ASSASSIN WHO WEAKENS

CARRIES DYNAMITE HIDDEN

List of Supposed Victims Is Also Found on Corpse; Suspect Is Arrested.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—With a bomb and loaded revolver under his sweater the body of Vito Gramaldi, aged 28, an Italian piano polisher, was found on the sidewalk early today. It is thought he was a member of the "black hand;" that he was slain, for refusing to carry out a murder plot.

Hugo Mansfield, suffering from a scalp wound and laceration of the leg, was arrested on suspicion.

It is learned that dynamite was found with the dead man sufficient to wreck the whole block.

The police are more convinced now that Gramaldi, while on his way to assassinate some person marked by the "Black Hand," lost courage, that he was followed by members of the society, who slew him for his cowardice.

In Gramaldi's pocket was found a list of persons believed to be marked for death.

VON MOLTKE TO PAY ALL COSTS

BERLIN, Oct. 29.—Editor Harden was today acquitted and Von Moltke was ordered to pay the costs in the sensational libel suit in which the German court is involved.

When Justice Kern read the verdict Von Moltke started violently, sinking in the chair and sobbing aloud. Still tottering, Von Moltke was assisted to the door. A great crowd outside hissed the count and hurled vile epithets at him.

"I am ruined! I am damned! Would I were dead!" said Von Moltke. Friends of Von Moltke drew their swords in trying to get to the count's carriage. The driver was struck by stones and the police arrived and clubbed the crowd back and drew a circle around the count's carriage, which was speedily driven away.

In the meantime another crowd carried Harden on its shoulders from the court room. Harden was surrounded by a cheering crowd.

In rendering his decision the justice said Harden's charges were supported by evidence; that he is entitled to his country's thanks for the service he has performed, and that Von Moltke had indulged in hideous orgies among the knights, and that the knights were guilty of a long series of mischievous political intrigues.

The defense gave notice of appeal.

RICHEST GOLD STRIKE IN CALIFORNIA HISTOY

PLACERVILLE, Cal., Oct. 29.—One of the greatest strikes of gold in California's history was made today at a gravel digging eighteen miles east of Placerville on the American river. It has been known many years that great deposits of gravel existed under a lava formation far in an eastern part of the county, but the channel never was before found. The present workings uncovered the ancient river bed and opened a rich deposit of gold in coarse nuggets weighing from one to sixteen ounces. Scores of claims already have been staked.

NO BOARD ON STATE IF THEY STAY HOME

MADISON, Oct. 29.—(Special.)—State Game Warden J. W. Stone recently presented a bill against the state for $33 for board and room while in Madison. He resides in this city. The bill was referred to the attorney general, who today decided that an expense account for board and room cannot legally be allowed by the state to a state official when contracted in the city in which the official makes his home.

Rt. Rev. James Schwebach, D. D., has also published for the faithful of the diocese of La Crosse the dispensation from the law of abstinence, granted by Holy Father Pope Pius X for Lent Friday: "Feast of All Saints," which is a day of obligation.

SEEK SOLID WISCONSIN DELEGATION FOR SENATOR

OTHER STATES ARE AIMED AT

Scope of Movement Outlined by Secretary Dahl as of National Importance.

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 29.—(Special.)—The first great meeting in support of Senator Robert M. La Follette's presidential campaign is on in this city today, and state leaders from every section are present.

Among those taking leading parts are Senators Thomas Morris, of La Crosse; A. W. Sanborn, Ashland; Walter Owens, Maiden Rock; S. M. Wilcox, Appleton; Assemblymen H. J. Nye, Superior; Alton Kukuck, Shevando; C. P. Stout, Medford; former Secretary of State Walter Houser, University Regent W. J. McElroy, Milwaukee; A. M. Stoddard, and former Assemblyman Henry Arumroy of Sheboygan. With these are such of the state officials as are in the confidence of the senator.

In a statement to the newspapers this afternoon Secretary Dahl said that the purpose of the meeting is primarily to plan the state and national campaign. He said an outline of the work necessary to get a solid La Follette delegation to the national republican convention would be made, and that the campaigns in various states which it is hoped to carry for La Follette would be planned.

The details of the conference were not made known, and the strictest secrecy is maintained by members regarding what is going on, save for the general statement of Dahl.

It is understood that Senator La Follette hopes to carry a number of western states, and possibly New Hampshire, provided the Chandler faction in that state wins.

BEEF AND BUTTER CUT 10 PER CENT AND ARE STILL TO GO DOWN

OMAHA, Neb., Oct. 29.—Omaha packing houses today reduced the prices of all kinds of meat 10 per cent, and expect a still further reduction. Edward A. Cudahy of the Cudahy Packing company expressed the belief that the price of all commodities would be materially reduced, and that the present financial flurry would result in a general reduction in values.

In Chicago, also, before the prediction of the Omaha packer reached Chicago a slight decrease in meat values was noticeable at the Union Stock yards of this city, the same condition occurring simultaneously in other packing centers of the country.

BASEBALL POWERS ARE AFTER PEACE

WILL TRY TO AVERT TROUBLE AT MEETING TODAY

ASSOCIATION WANTS POWER

American Association Will Make Demands and War Will Follow Refusal, It Is Said

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 29.—Magnates of the minor baseball leagues of the United States will meet in New York today, and baseball history may be made before the delegates adjourn. The declaration of probable war by the American association, in the event that the minor organization refuses to grant the demands of the A. A. for greater power, overshadows all other matters in the attention of the delegates.

President Patrick T. Powers of the National Association of Minor Baseball leagues, before which the A. A. delegates will present their alleged grievances, in an interview at New York yesterday said that he hoped it would be possible to adjust all disagreements without the necessity of a baseball war.

"I hope we shall be able to smooth over the prospective trouble and convince the disgruntled ones that it will be better for baseball to consider the interests of all instead of individual interests," said Powers. "Not that we want anyone to forfeit their deserved rights, because I will be one of the first to call a halt then."

Revives New League Talk.

Claude B. Martin, one of the St. Louis, Mo., men, who has been urging the organization of a new league, comprising American association cities and Cincinnati, has returned to St. Louis from a tour of the towns he wishes to combine in the new organization. Martin says his proposition is favored by influential men. "If the American association declares war against the other parties to the national agreement, this week we will be in shape to proceed at once to form another league," said Martin. "Cincinnati and Pittsburgh capitalists are anxious to take stock in the league and they are willing to establish clubs in their towns. William Niessen of Chicago will join at once."

BOY NATURE FAKIR IS DRIVEN TO DRINK

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Oct. 29.—Frank Haffield, a boy naturalist of Perry street, Allegheny, disagreed with President Roosevelt's theory on ground squirrels, but on investigation found that the head of the nation was right. This so annoyed the 15 year old student of natural history that he took to drink and may die in consequence. The Haffield boy, who had studied much natural history, protested vigorously some time ago on reading that Mr. Roosevelt said the chipmunk, or ground squirrel, hibernated. He asserted that he had met the little animal in the depths of winter. He visited all the haunts of the chipmunk within miles of the city, but could find not one. He drowned his sorrow in whisky and was soon senseless.

Reasonable Rules For Rheumatics

Western Specialist Explains a Few Simple Rules for the Avoidance and Cure of Rheumatism, Kidney and Bladder Troubles.

Dr. George Edmund Flood states that Rheumatism and the various forms of Kidney and Bladder troubles are among the most easily curable diseases—that is, when they are treated in a sensible manner.

According to Dr. Flood, those persons suffering from any of these ailments should exercise the greatest moderation in the consumption of rich foods. Dr. Flood has met with great success in his practice in the treatment of these complaints, and he has advised all of his patients to substitute for such a diet as we have just mentioned, the simpler and more nourishing soups, broths, fresh milk, fresh vegetables, and plenty of pure water—lots of water.

But, says Dr. Flood, observance of these rules will not suffice to effect a cure, although such observance is necessarily of the greatest assistance in the treatment. During all his practice, that is, in the treatment of Rheumatism, Kidney and Bladder troubles, this eminent physician has employed one simple prescription which, he states, has proven itself of unvarying curative value. Dr. Flood has kindly consented that we reproduce a copy of this famous prescription in this column for the benefit of our readers. This is the prescription.

Fluid Extract Carcara Aromatic, 1/2 ounce; Concentrated Barkola Compound, 1 ounce Aromatic Elixir, 4 ounces.

Adult dose, one teaspoonful after meals and at bedtime; children, one-fourth to one-half teaspoonful after meals.

Dr. Flood says it is pleasant to take and may be filled by any druggist, anywhere, or, better still, you can get the ingredients yourself and mix them at home by shaking well in a bottle. Dr. Flood guarantees the success of this prescription if taken according to directions.

UNIVERSITY TRIES THE FORWARD PASS

COACHES PUT TEAM THROUGH HARD PRACTICE

CHANGES MADE ON THE TEAM

Shifting of Positions Occurs Last Night; Moll Will Quit the University.

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 29.—Wisconsin's football team was given a long practice in the use of the forward pass last night. Coach Hutchins is determined to have the team show up better in this branch of the game than on Saturday and the practice, with the exception of a few minutes of scrimmage against the scrubs, was devoted to the pass. Several new plays with longer forward passes were tried, but they did not prove successful.

The coaches made a number of important changes last night. Capt. Messmer was taken in from end to his old position at tackle and Lowman took his place. Cunningham was put at quarter and was given the management of the team. Rogers was not in the lineup, his place at left end being taken by Hosler. His return tomorrow may see him directing the team as he was in close consultation with the coaches behind the team tonight. Tommy Davidson, whose nose was broken on Saturday, played guard again, but Fick who suffered a dislocation of the shoulder had to watch the practice from the side lines. Whitaker is suffering from a wrenched shoulder and Wilce took his place at fullback last night. Osthoff was not out.

Report had it that Keckle Moll, the star freshman quarter, would leave the university for Chicago at the end of the term. It is said that Moll's father has had several conferences with Coach Staggs and has completed arrangements for his son's transfer, but this is denied by the player. Whether Moll could play next year under conference rules is doubtful as they require a year's residence, but it is thought that work at Chicago's summer school might remove this difficulty.

The team will leave Madison on the Northwestern road Friday afternoon at 5:25 o'clock, arriving at Chicago at 9:45 o'clock. There a sleeper will be waiting at the Rock Island station and the team will leave at 2:15 Saturday morning, arriving at Iowa City at 8:03.

STRIKES STOUT FOR STOPPING THE FIGHT

FOND DU LAC, Wis., Oct. 29.—Jack Dougherty of Milwaukee will meet Eddie McGorty of Oshkosh. After the manner in which the fight between Dougherty and Young Edwards came to a close here Friday night, Dougherty has had blood in his eye. He denies that there was any frame-up between himself and Young Edwards, and for an explanation as to the reason he did not come to closer quarters with Edwards, says that, after his experience with the former Beaver Dam boxer the previous week, he did not desire to run any risks. Dougherty was mad clear through when "Kiddo" Stout called the fight in the third round, and later in the evening meeting "Kiddo" in the Brunkhorst buffet, landed on his jaw. Stout jerked off his coat and "sailed in." For about three minutes it was rough and tumble, when bystanders separated the two men. Dougherty is training hard for his battle with McGorty, and says he will win.

Those who are in the habit of having their garbage removed by the municipal garbage man can not expect him next month, as Health Officer A. Murphy said this morning, that the garbage wagons would be removed from service after the first of the month unless warm weather continues.

The city has been employing three men on the three garbage wagons, two on the south side and one on the north side.

"There has been much dissatisfaction caused this season," said Health Officer Murphy, "on account of the fact that few people provide garbage cans for their garbage, and those who do provide very poor ones. 'Two of my men have had to use scoop shovels all summer,' said the health officer, 'in order to scoop the garbage from the ground.'"

"Garbage cans, preferably with lids, are entirely necessary for sanitary conditions, and I have been promised help from the administration to have the ordinance which asks for their provision, strictly enforced next season."

ROOSEVELT PRAISE PILOTS OF STORM

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—The following letter from President Roosevelt to the secretary of the treasury has been made public:

The White House, Washington, Oct. 25, 1907.

My Dear Mr. Cortelyou:—I congratulate you upon the admirable way in which you have handled the present crisis. I congratulate also those conservative and substantial business men who in this crisis have acted with such wisdom and public spirit. By their action they did invaluable service in checking the panic which, beginning as a matter of speculation, was threatening to destroy the confidence and credit necessary to the conduct of legitimate business.

No one who considers calmly can question that the underlying conditions which make up our financial and industrial well-being are essentially sound and honest. Dishonest dealing and speculative enterprise are merely the occasional incidents of our real prosperity. The action taken by you and by the business men in question has been of the utmost consequence and has secured opportunity for the calm consideration which must inevitably produce entire confidence in our business conditions.

Faithfully yours,
THEODORE ROOSEVELT.
Hon. GEORGE B. CORTELYOU,
Secretary of the Treasury

EACH THOUGHT OTHER BURGLAR

CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 29.—Because of the darkness in the Talman avenue between West Lake and West Randolph streets last evening two men mistook each other for robbers and fired several shots. In passing the men brushed against each other. Both drew revolvers and fired. Tom Mulvey, 29 years old, was shot through the left wrist. The other man is John O'Neill, 22 years old. He was locked up at the Warren avenue police station charged with disorderly conduct.

GENERAL BOOTH ATTENDS MEETINGS

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 29.—Gen. William Booth of the Salvation Army, who was suffering from exhaustion upon his arrival here from Columbus, O., attended three meetings in the Alvin Theater and was apparently much improved. The general, who

ECZEMA ONLY SKIN DEEP

Proven by Records Now on Display at Hoeschler Bros. Store.

The old theory that skin disease was caused by bad blood or a disordered internal system has been proven a false one. It is now well known among up-to-date skin specialists that skin disease is caused by a germ in the skin and that this germ must be killed by local treatment.

Hoeschler Bros., druggists at La Crosse, have in their possession hundreds of letters from persons formerly suffering from eczema, psoriasis, salt rheum, and other diseases of the skin. He also has pictures of men, women and children showing the skin diseased, cracked and bleeding, while a few months later it is clean, soft and smooth with every trace of the disease wiped out. All these cures were made by a local external application of D. D. D. Prescription, a remedy that instantly stops all itch and quickly kills the disease germ, effecting a permanent, positive cure.

Here is a simple letter from J. Dalton, Wilderness, Mo.: "I have used the bottle of medicine you sent me and am now a well man. Please accept my heartfelt thanks. Your remedy cannot be praised too much."

Every sufferer of skin disease can see such letters by calling at the Hoeschler Bros. drug stores and also secure without charge a book on the cause and cure of skin diseases.

EXPECTS 400 VOICES IN MIXED CHORUS

John L. Utermoehl, secretary of the local central society of the 1908 Saengerfest, states that he expected to have about 400 members in his mixed chorus.

Secretary C. R. Zietzke of the Germania society of Rockford, Ill., was in the city Sunday, the guest of Mr. Utermoehl, while looking over the ground and making arrangements for the accommodation of about 25 active members of his society.

They have also made arrangements to run excursions to La Crosse from Rockford and Freeport the day before the big picnic, which will be held on Sunday in either Pettibone or Myrick parks.

President Theodore J. Behrens of Chicago will be in the city today. Secretary C. F. Sutor of the Germania society has issued an invitation for all the ladies of the society to appear at the Germania hall tomorrow evening for the discussion of the bazaar and fair to be given by the local secretary.

Arrangements will also be made at this time to enter new members into the mixed chorus.

JOHNNY THOMPSON GOES WITH WELSCH

CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 29.—Johnny Thompson, the Sycamore Cyclone, has been matched to fight Freddie Welsch, the eastern lightweight, before the National Sporting club of Philadelphia. The bout is carded for the coming Saturday night, Nov. 2, and will be for six rounds.

Thompson is being handled by T. E. Jones of La Salle, Ill., manager of Billy Papke, and expects to get a number of bouts while down east.

Papke will also be taken east after his fight with Capont, unless he and Kelly come to an agreement as to weight. If he signs up with Kelly, Papke will train at his home in Kewanee, Ill.

WOMAN JUMPS TO ESCAPE THIEF

CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 29.—Mrs. Barbara Rumstick leaped from a high window when a burglar with drawn revolver approached the bed in which she and her husband lay early yesterday morning.

The fall stunned her and, peering out at her, the burglar remarked: "Well, I guess she's safe where she is."

Then he turned to Rustick with admonition to be quiet, and, packing the clothing in the room into a bundle, after taking a small sum from Rumstick's trousers, left the house by a rear door.

VITAL TO LA CROSSE.

It is not always true that railroads, in consulting their own profit, find it convenient to subvert the convenience of a preponderance of the public affected by their operations. Neither is it always true that individuals seeking their own convenience in attempting to influence railroad service are enabled at the same time to support the best interests of the majority of the railroad's patrons.

There is now under contemplation
of the state railroad commission a case, to which explicit reference is made elsewhere in this issue, that is of vital importance to La Crosse
and to dwellers in the towns and on the farms along the Green Bay road from Marshland to Merrillan, and in relation thereto certain individuals,
thoughtlessly perhaps, are bending
their influence in a direction not corresponding with the best interests of a vast majority of the public. The railroads involved, from mercenary motives, are inspiring this rather inconsequent opposition, and so palpable is their reason that it will be obvious to the commission, and may become formidable only through the paucity of the majority of the traveling public.

Briefly, the people of Trempealeau valley have no satisfactory access to La Crosse. Starting at Merrillan, Hixon, Taylor, Blair, Whitehall, Independence, Arcadia or Dodge, they go to Marshland over the Green Bay arriving opposite Winona only FIVE MINUTES too late to catch the La Crosse-bound Burlington. There they wait about an hour to take a Northwestern train to La Crosse, or tired with the prospect of the wait,
they go into Winona to trade.

From La Crosse back to these places the conditions are even worse.
The Northwestern train north leaves
here so late as to miss connections
with the returning Green Bay from Winona and Marshland to the series of villages named by about 45 minutes.

The result is that the people of the rich Trempealeau valley must go into a smaller city outside the state to do their trading, or spend the greater part of two days in getting to La Crosse and back.

Speaker Herman Ekern, of Whitehall, has taken the matter before the state commission to compel a readjustment of the train schedules, so that folk from the Trempealeau valley can reach La Crosse without inconvenience.

MEN OF NOTE

James P. Taliaferro

Senator James Piper Taliaferro,
United States senator from Florida,
was born at Orange Court House, Virginia, on September 30, 1847. He was given an ordinary common school education and served as private in the confederate army during the civil war. After the war Senator
Taliaferro went to Jacksonville,
Florida, and went into the lumber
business becoming a practical logger and sawmill operator. He was very successful and branched out into the banking business and became a financial power in his section of his state. He was chairman of the democratic executive committee of his state for three years. His home is in Jacksonville.

return home in time for supper the same day.

But there is opposition. Through one of its attorneys the Northwestern
is fighting against the change. Why?

Because much of the stock of the Green Bay is owned by the stockholders of the Northwestern, who are using the Green Bay as a feeder to the Northwestern. They see that the change would divert a large amount of traffic from the Northwestern to the Burlington, and their stock trains would be interfered with.

To make the opposition good, it must have back of it a show of popular sentiment and public convenience. So traveling representatives of commercial houses are being sought to throw their influence against the change, on the ground
that certain inconsiderable advantages accrue to them which they would lose by the suggested alteration of the train schedules.

While this opposition is not tremendous, it is dangerous in this: If the people of Trempealeau valley,
and of La Crosse, do not assert their opinions and their rights with emphasis, an active minority may triumph against a passive and overwhelming majority.

There are 30,000 people in Trempealeau county, 10,000 of them in the villages named. They are trading in Winona, simply because they cannot get to La Crosse. This is their natural market. From fifty to 100 each day go to Winona, and La Crosse loses what Winona gains.
Cannot this city give convincing support to the fight which Mr. Ekern of the Trempealeau valley, is making to create an avenue of traffic
between that rich and industrious locality and La Crosse?

BARNEY VALENTINE

There will be general regret over the resignation of Alderman Barney Valentine from the city council, and his possible departure from the city will be viewed with even greater concern.

Mr. Valentine has served his ward, and the city at large, for a number of years, and it is not exaggeration to assert that La Crosse
has enjoyed the services of no more earnest, fearless and public spirited servant than he has been.

Notable among the activities of Alderman Valentine was his successful effort to secure a much desired extension of the street car service in the North side, a fight that was won in the face of the opposition of skilled and aggressive men.
Barney Valentine, the record dis-closes, was uniformly on the side of the masses. He gave consideration to no arguments that did not support the common good. He is no statesman; he is a plain, honest
business man, one with whom La Crosse cannot part without a sense of loss.

SPOTLIGHTS

La Crosse Theater.

There was a genuine dramatic and vaudeville treat at the above theater last night when the Dougherty Stock company opened their week's engagement in the peculiar play, "A Quaker Tragedy," and the company at once became favorites. There was laughter, applause and tears in rapid succession. Jim and Hattie Dougherty head the list of players, and they are supported by a very capable company, who seem fitted for their respective roles. Specialties were introduced between the acts which were
of a high class. The illustrated songs and moving pictures were excellent. The Dougherty Stock company is above the average popular priced attraction and should do a good business the entire week. Tonight the great play entitled "A Game of Life," will be presented and a matinee tomorrow afternoon at 2:30, when the "Gambler's Wife"
will be given.

"The Prince of Pilsen."

Thursday, Nov. 7, marks the return of "The Prince of Pilsen" to the La Crosse theater, the scene of an earlier triumph for the Pixley-Luders tuncful operetta. No musical vehicle of the past five years has met with greater favor. Its score teems with delightful and the most charming of melodies, and its situations are full of the most delicious comedy.
Pixley's book is full of quaint dro-leries and bright quips, these united with Gustav Luders' catchy airs and ensembles have made "The Prince of Pilsen" almost ideal as a comic opera. Mr. Savage's company this visit will present many new faces.
Notable for their singing value are the principals forming the vocal quartette. These comprise Octavia
Brooks with a fine coloratura voice,
Reba Dale, a talented mezzo-soprano, Edward Foley, who possesses
a delightful light tenor, and Edward Mora, a fine baritone. The latter is the new Prince of Pilsen. For the comedy role formerly played by Jess Dandy, Dan Hason, an excellent German dialect comedian, has been secured. A valuable acquisition is Lillian Lawson, who will be the French maid, Sidonie. She will do the famous whirlwind dance with George I. Moore, who is cast for the French concierge, Francois. The chorus, like principals, are all new people, the pick of the Broadway
show and picture girls. All possess good voices. An entirely new stage production and an augmented orchestra will give zest to this, the sixth review of the work.

At the Bijou.

The vaudeville acts at the Bijou
this week excel many of the acts
presented for several weeks past.
The performance is opened with Kretor, "The Mad Musician," who presents a new and novel feature in the music line, giving several interesting selections on an instrument of his own invention. He plays on whiskey bottles and closes with a selection on a miniature violin. The Great Nello, assisted by Mme. Nello, is the head liner for the week and his juggling acts are new and hold the interest of the audience. The Byron and Blanch team present
their original comedy, "Matrimonial Sweets in Family Jars," and although the act has been seen here before,
it is appreciated.
The Helm children present an interesting singing and dancing turn and deserve the liberal applause they get. Their act is something new and clever, and Master Helm wins
the heart of his audience.
"Just a Little Fond Affection,"
the illustrated song this week, is sung by Mr. Louis La Valle. The moving pictures close the performance. "Reggie's Gaming Party" is very interesting, while the Cambodian Customers gives an interesting
description of the Chinese mannerisms. Kreutz's orchestra was the usual Monday night attraction.

THE LATEST JAPANESE CLAIM

(New York Globe)

If Tokio dispatches are to be credited Japan is assuming the role of schoolmaster to the world—is seeking to secure, on the pain of her displeasure if denied, the recognition of an entirely new international principle. It is that no nation has the right to limit, regulate or control immigration. The Ottawa government, worried by the Vancouver disturbances,
having taken steps to induce Japan
to agree formally to a limitation on the number of Japanese yearly entering Canada, the Japanese foreign office says that it will be impossible to consider such proposals. The reason assigned is that to consent to restriction would be to lower Japan's status as a world-power. This implies that it is the Japanese doctrine that her citizens—and inferentially citizens
of every country—have an indefeas-ible right, unsubject to the veto of an existing population, to domicile themselves anywhere. The notion that the receiving country into whose territory there is intrusion has any authority to prescribe terms and conditions is repudiated.

LABOR-SAVING IMPOLITENESS

(New York Tribune)

We wish some record had been preserved of the time saved by changing from the old-fashioned profound inclination of the head toward the earth—perhaps itself a labor-saving improvement on an earlier ceremonial of greeting in which the forehead was brought, oriental fashion,
in actual contact with the floor—to the modern brisk nod. We wish there were statistics to show how much time mankind has gained in cutting courtesy down from paragraphs to grunts. We doubt whether all the vaunted economies of labor-saving machinery have equalled those of the nod.

JUST LIFE

Please.

Please, Mr. County Commissioners, won't you remove that iron fence with which the court house
square is hedged around and about?
In the days when Preston was young, when we partook of the wild and woolly west, a few of our easy going souls would at times stake
cows on the common, but the Times will vouch for the fact that this practice has long since been discontinued, and the only good that fence
does now is to disfigure the beauty of the square and make janitor Hopp swear. The fence will bring something for old iron, and can serve no good purpose where it is.
Please, please remove it.—Preston Times.

Hard to Live or Die.

Not only does it cost more to live
in Appleton than it did a week ago, but it also costs more to die. The hotels of the city raised their rates
from $2 to $2.25 a day and from 50
to 60 cents a single meal. The barber at the same time raised the price of shaves from 10 to 15 cents, and the trustees of the St. Joseph cemetry announced a raise of 5 per cent on lots. Caskets have kept in the race with barley for top notch prices
and while the grain has advanced ten cents a bushel, the caskets have gone up $10. Liverymen have been agitating a raise in the prices of hearse and hacks from $3 to $4 for burial purposes.—Portage Democrat.

THEY WERE HEROES, INDEED

(Philadelphia North America.)

A plague that scourged ten states
at intervals throughout all earlier generations, killed tens of thousands impoverished cities and harmed the whole country's prosperity was made impossible for evil by the heroism of a little group of American army men.

Their bravery was not displayed in spectacular form. It consisted merely in allowing mosquitoes to bite them. But no knight of romance ever did a deed of finer courage
than the military surgeons who lifted the menace of yellow fever
from this country.

FASHION

The demand for smart and up-to-date clothing which is so keenly felt
by the women of today, is apparent in the realm of doll-doll quite as we'll as that in real life. Every truly devoted little mother wants to see her play children gowned correctly
and smartly, and such a little suit
as this one consequently is certain to meet a hearty welcome. It combines the fashionable plaited skirt
with the Prince Chap coat, and can be made from pongee, from silk,
from mohair, from cloth, from cheviot, or from any material of the sort.
In the illustration, however, chiffons is used in the new shade
known as Amazon blue, stitched
with beading silk.

The suit consists of the coat and the skirt. The coat is made with fronts and backs, and is finished with a Tuxedo collar, while it includes the long plain sleeves of the correct tailored garment. The skirt is straight and made in one-piece,
while it is trimmed with applied
bands and laid in backward turning plaits.

The quantity of material required
for the medium size is 1 1/2 yards 21, 1 1/2 yards 27 or 3/4 yard 44 inches wide.
The pattern 5802 is cut in sizes
for dolls 18, 22 and 26 inches in length and will be mailed to any address by the Fashion Department of this paper on receipt of ten cents.
(If in haste send an additional two cent stamp for letter postage which insures more prompt delivery.)

THE GIANT'S STRENGTH

BY BASIL KING

Copyrighted by Harper & Bros.

"Papa," she said, huskily, "this is Mr. Roger Winship, who painted my portrait. I've promised to marry him."

Trafford stood still, as if turned to stone. Mrs. Trafford glanced backward from her seat on the divan.
George and Laura wheeled round
from their contemplation of the portrait. It was the sort of shock that translates itself slowly to the thought, more slowly still into action.

Winship remained motionless, his gleaming eyes fixed on the man who had struck his father down. His trained observation watched, while dull, ashen hues stole into Paul Trafford's face, and the determined lips settled themselves, shaded by shade, into the lines of pain.

The silence was long. It was only by degrees that the dull meaning of the situation made itself clear. The eyes of the family, that had been fixed in amazed contemplation on Winship, now turned towards Trafford, waiting for a sign.

"Paula, go home," he commanded at last. "Take her," he added to his wife. There was a quiver in his voice as if he could say no more.

Paula advanced towards Winship
and held out her hand. He took it and held it long, but no word was spoken between them.

"Go!" Trafford cried, with the brief threat of anger, and Paula turned.

She went out first, with bowed head, through the door by which they had all come in. Her mother followed, pressing her handkerchief
to her lips. Trafford nodded to George and Laura to precede him.
George went out obediently, very pale. On the threshold of the room
Laura turned and looked back at Winship. It was the only glance of recognition, if recognition it was, that had been vouchsafed him. Trafford himself left last.

Winship stood still, listening to the tramp, tramp of their footsteps through the long defile of rooms. He listened while the sound grew faint-er, and till at last it died away.
Then he flung himself on the divan
and covered his face with his hand.
"Paul Trafford has got it in the heart," he muttered to himself.
"My God, I've done it!—after the long years. Even if I lose her now
—the victory is mine."

CHAPTER XIV

Little was said between Paula and her mother on the homeward drive.
With head thrown back into the corner of the carriage, Mrs. Trafford sobbed gently.

"Oh, mother, don't," Paula pleaded, from time to time, but Mrs. Trafford only sobbed the more.

"It's my fault," she moaned. "I never should have allowed you to think of that absurd portrait. I might have known that some evil
would happen when you began to take up with your father's enemies.
It's my fault, and I never shall forgive myself."

"No, mother, dear, it's not your fault. The painting of the portrait didn't make me love him. I loved him before that. I can see it now."
"Don't say such a thing. It's shameful."

"But I did, mother. I did, even if it were shameful. I love him before the Duke introduced him to me.
I've never ceased to think of him,
from the first moment I saw him."

"Oh, the poor Duke! I wonder
you have the heart to mention him.
If you'd only married him, as you should have done, this dreadful scandal wouldn't have come upon us.
The newspapers are sure to get hold of it. They always do. I can't begin to think what your father will say after the way he's spoiled you."

Paula sat erect and silent. Her mother had touched the one point that was vital. What would Paul Trafford say and do? There was no question to be asked beyond that.
Beside that nothing counted.

They reached home at almost the same moment as George and Laura.
The father was following alone.

"It's my fault," Mrs. Trafford broke out anew, as they all met in the great entrance-hall. "I should never have allowed her to think of
it. I should have insisted on her marrying the Duke of Wiltshire. Better that she should have taken that Comte de Presles, though I never could endure him. But anybody—
anybody—rather than such disgrace
as this! No! I shall never forgive myself. Never! Never!"

"If it's any one's fault, Aunt Julia," Trafford spoke up, trying to be consoling, "it's mine. I shouldn't have told her anything about the Winships, to begin with. I should have known the kind of ardent,
crazy way in which she'd take it."

Laura said nothing, but if possible,
her face was clearer and more business-like than ever. From the glance of her gray eye to the brisk movements of her person, everything bespoke resolution and restraint. Paula remained apart and behind them,
just within the door, like a child in disgrace.

"Come up to my room and talk about it," Mrs. Trafford begged. "I must have something to say to your uncle when he comes in."

Moving heavily and moaning as she went, Mrs. Trafford mounted the splendid stairway. George and Laura followed. Excluded from the ap-

How often, oh, how often,
In the rush hour and the rain,
I stood on the bridge and wrestled
To get on a Flatbush train!

Or his tailor bill's too tall,
Who fears to make the annual

It fell to earth, I sadly fear,
For quick she turned her graceful

"I think you dropped a note," she

Pleasant for the "Jassax."

He was a newcomer in the mining camp and as everything he saw appeared novel and interesting, he kept up a rapid fire of questions that seemed mighty foolish to the boys.

The placid little pack-burros,
mostly ears and voice, pleased him
immensely, and he supposed they were kept as pets or else as camp scavengers to nibble the labels from old cans and eat stray newspapers.
He came across one packing a wheel-barrow secured on its back, with wheel and handles in the air.

"My good man," he asked the owner, "can you tell me why the little donkey is tied to the wheelbar-
row in that odd fashion?"

"I shure can, stranger," replied
that accommodating individual.

During the caucus in one of the Thomas Mulcahy as to who this per-

"He's me brother," explained
Tom, with cheerful alacrity. "He's

STUESSER RETURNS FROM VACATION

Captain Frank J. Stuesser of No. 2 engine house has returned from his vacation which was spent opposite Dakota hunting and fishing. LOONEY'S TRIAL AGAIN POSTPONED

Owing to the departure tonight of Assistant-Postmaster C. C. Looney for Kansas City on a business trip, his trial before the Franklin club, booked for Thursday night, will have to be postponed again.

Mr. Looney was to have been tried on a charge of having given up his residence on the north side for a home on the south side.

The trial will probably be held upon the return of the assistant postmaster from the west.

CARL SMITH IS KILLED BY TRAIN ON NORTH SIDE

FALLS UNDER CAR AS ENGINE STOPS AT WATER TANK

ARM AND LEG GROUND OFF

Victim's Cries Attract Train Crew, and He Dies at Hospital—Wife Had Presentiment of Trouble

Carl Smith, the well known railroad man, who was run over in the North side yards yesterday afternoon, died at 2 o'clock this morning at the La Crosse hospital, where he was taken immediately after the accident.

Stories told by the men who were on the train at the time of the accident are somewhat vague and no one seems to know just how the accident happened. The general story however, is that the crew under John Downs had just completed some switching in the south side yards and the engine was returning, with a few cars, to the North side. Just after the train started on the south side it was boarded by a man, who evidently intended riding to the North side, the other trainmen not taking notice of who he was. As it is customary for railroad men to ride up no attention was paid to him. The train was just slowing down at the coal chute on the North side when the crew was attracted by a cry of pain and when the train was stopped they found the man lying beside the track.

Just how it happened is not known, but it is presumed that he attempted to leave the train while it was still moving and fell under the wheels of the car next to the engine.

He was lifted up by some of the crew and was carried on a grain door to the depot where he was placed on a truck. A doctor and the ambulance were immediately summoned. Dr. Sultor responded to the call and arrived at about the same time as the ambulance and ordered the man taken to the La Crosse hospital.

His injuries were very severe, the wheels having passed over his left leg, just above the ankle, and his arm was smashed almost to a pulp.

There was also a severe wound in his head. Everything possible was done to save his life, but to no avail, and he died at 2 o'clock this morning.

The accident happened about 4:30 in the afternoon.

Mr. Smith was well known among the railroad people at La Crosse, and although he was not employed by the Milwaukee at the time of the accident had been working for the road previously.

Besides a wife the deceased leaves three children.

The funeral will be held Thursday afternoon from 808 Avon street, the residence of the father of the deceased, at 2:30 o'clock. Rev. G. M. Thurow will officiate at the services with A. O. Sletten in charge of the arrangements.

One of the strange incidents in connection with the accident is the fact that all day yesterday Mrs. Smith, widow of the deceased, had a presentiment that something would happen to her husband, and spoke to several of her neighbors of it. Later the news of his death reached her.

um pipe. The presentation speech was rendered by Prof. Otto Wieland, who has had charge of the German branch at the high school for some time.

The recipient gratefully thanked the donors.

TRANSFER MILEAGE

PASSENGER ASS'N MAKES NEW RULING

2 Cents Per Mile is Basis of Sale

La Crosse people who do a great amount of traveling will be interested in the announcement which has just been received from Chicago to the effect that mileage books will be put in by the lines of the Western Passenger Association Dec. 1. There will be two kinds, one for 1,000 miles and the other for 2,000 miles, for $20 and $40 respectively.

While the books will be on a 2-cent basis, their use will be convenient to the public from the fact that they will be good for bearer. This means that a commercial house, for instance, can purchase a number of the books, and they may be used at any time by anybody they are handed out to. It will also permit the owner of the book to pay for the fare of his family or friends by simply handing over the book to the conductor and telling him who are in the party.

The new arrangement will make identification unnecessary and save all the bother and trouble incident to the former plan. The old books, which went practically out of existence when the 2-cent rates in the different states in the territory went into effect, could only be used by those who purchased them and had their names attached.

The 1,000 mile books will be good only on the lines from which they are purchased, while the 2,000 mile book will be interchangeable on all lines in the Western Passenger association. The former feature is a departure from the old plan, for all mileage books issued were interchangeable among the lines in the association.

There is no change in the forms of the coupons, except in so far as no identification is needed and conditions brought about the elimination of rebates after the books have been used. A rebate of $9.50 was paid before on the 2,000 mile book, for which $50 was deposited. The 1,000 mile book, however, was on the straight basis of $25.

The credential plan will not be restored. It has no excuse to exist any longer. Under this arrangement the man who traveled 3,000 miles and showed his receipts was given enough of a rebate to make it cost him ultimately only 2 cents a mile.

We are pleased to announce that Foley's Honey and Tar for coughs, colds and lung troubles is not affected by the National Pure Food and Drug law as it contains no opiates or other harmful drugs, and we recommend it as a safe remedy for children and adults. O. T. Erhart.

Is it coffee? Is it tea? No! Seldom indeed do they use these evil drugs. They know that they destroy digestion—weaken the nerves—encourage insomnia. The vast majority of physicians prefer pure malt and hop beer at meals, such as

Gund's Peerless Beer

This superb beer has been brewed for over half a century from the best malting Barley and imported Bohemian Hops by the celebrated "Gund Natural Process." Physicians knowing its commanding superiority over all other American beers not only approve of it for their own table, but heartily recommend it to poorly nourished and convalescing patients. The testimony of the World's greatest physicians prove that beer is undoubtedly healthy—for example we print the following:

DR. WILLIS P. KING, of Kansas City, formerly President of the Missouri State Medical Society, speaks of beer as follows:

"Beer to persons of moderate health, where used in moderate quantities, does not only increase weight and strength of body, but has the influence of aiding the digestive apparatus to digest other things taken as food. For nearly 40 years I have prescribed our best beers, ordering three to four glasses a day, in a great variety of ailments and the RESULTS have been wonderfully beneficial.

Every man deeply respects the individual who is guided and governed by cool judgment and common sense. If one finds his habits of food or drink are producing some hints of disease he should heed nature's warnings and properly adjust his diet to keep the beautiful human machinery in order.

One does not always know where to commence to correct a diet, but one thing to stop is coffee, a most alluring and insidious enemy that "sings one to sleep and knifes him."

The slow, but sure effect of caffeine—the active drug in coffee—on the heart, finally produces weak pulse and a deranged nervous system which grow slowly but steadily more pronounced and end in some fixed organic disease unless the cause be removed.

Postum is scientifically made of selected parts of the field grains that yields the natural phosphates which rebuild and give vital energy.

BUYS HORSES—Alderman Harry Palmer returned Saturday from St. Peter's, Minn., where he purchased two teams of horses for the Miller Brewing company of St. Paul. Mr. Palmer bought a team of blacks and a team of bays.

HUNTERS DISAPPOINTED—La Crosse hunters, who secured Minnesota small game licenses, expecting to reap a bountiful harvest of ducks in Target and La Crescent lakes, have been disappointed for late fall shooting. Ducks have left the two large swamps or lakes opposite the city and departed for the south. On Sunday Minnesota and Wisconsin hunters filled the usual abode of the waterfowl, but failed to kill a single duck. The fowl may return later.

SQUIRRELS REMAIN—Squirrels, which were driven into La Crosse by the failure of the nut crop in Minnesota and Iowa, still remain in La Crosse. Food has been given the spry little animals. In many yards hastily constructed homes have been given the squirrels along with food, and the animals promise to remain during the entire winter.

BRANCHING OUT—P. C. Wiggenhorn, cigar broker of this city, has been engaged by the Yerxa Brothers, wholesale grocery firm of Minneapolis, to manager a cigar jobbing department that is about to be opened at Minneapolis.

Mr. Wiggenhorn intends to spend a portion of his time at Minneapolis and will attend to his duties here the remaining time.

HALLOWEEN PARTY—The sixth grade of the Sixth district school has planned a Halloween party for Wednesday evening, to be held at the school. The room will be decorated and each child will bring a share of the refreshments. Games and other amusements are planned for the occasion.

RELIGIOUS HOLIDAYS—Two important church festivals will be held at the churches this week. Friday will be All Saint's day, the evening before being Halloween or the eve of All Hallow or All Saints day. Saturday will be All Souls day. This is set aside for services for the dead. It is not a holy day of obligation.

PREPARE FOR WINTER—A crew of the board of public works, from the water department, is engaged in putting hydrants and manholes in condition for the winter. Sewers are being flushed and accumulated water is being drawn from the hydrants to prevent freezing when cold weather reaches the city.

PREPARE FOR DEER—Deer hunters in La Crosse are fingering their high powered rifles with eagerness in preparation for the opening of the deer season on Nov. 10. The first of the month usually sees the beginning of preparations. Several La Crosse sportsmen expect to go into the northern woods after deer this fall.

HUNTING IN WEST—Dr. E. A. Gatterdam and Henry Gund are hunting bear and big game in Montana. The two have been gone about two weeks and are expected home shortly.

GET BAGS OF GAME—Reports of big bags of ducks and geese in Minnesota lakes, within one hundred miles of La Crosse, are being received daily. One hunter killed eighteen geese near Janesville, Minn., in three hours, and classed the shooting as poor for that section of the country. Ducks are reported as plentiful also. A few geese have been shot in the lakes about La Crosse. The promised cold weather is expected to bring an influx of ducks to La Crosse.

Bad Symptoms.

The woman who has periodic headaches, backache, sees imaginary dark spots or specks floating or dancing before her eyes, has gnawing distress or heavy full feeling in stomach, faint spells, dragging-down feeling in lower abdominal or pelvic region, easily startled or excited, irregular or painful periods, with or without pelvic catarrh, is suffering from weaknesses and derangements that should have early attention. Not all of above symptoms are likely to be present in any case at one time.

Neglected or badly treated and such cases often run into maladies which demand the surgeon's knife if they do not result fatally.

No medicine extant has such a long and numerous record of cures in such cases as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. No medicine has such a strong professional endorsement of each of its several ingredients—worth more than any number of ordinary non-professional testimonials. The very best ingredients known to medical science for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments enter into its composition. No alcohol, harmful, or habit-forming drug is to be found in the list of its ingredients. It is put on each bottle wrapper and attested under oath.

In any condition of the female system, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription can do only good—never harm. Its whole effect is to strengthen, invigorate and regulate the whole female system and especially the pelvic organs. When these are deranged in function or affected by disease, the stomach and other organs of digestion become sympathetically deranged, the nerves are weakened, and a long list of bad, unpleasant symptoms follow. Too much must not be expected of this "Favorite Prescription." It will not perform miracles; will not cure tumors—no medicine will. It will often prevent them, if taken in time, and thus the operating table and the surgeon's knife may be avoided.

Women suffering from diseases of long standing, are invited to consult Doctor Pierce by letter, free. All correspondence is held as strictly private and sacredly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser (1000 pages) is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps for paper-covered, or 31 stamps for cloth-bound copy. Address as above.

SEEKS POSITIVE PREVENTION OF ALL RAILROAD WRECKS

The new method makes "space" the key. Where the block system is used time makes no difference. It is a question of space and with the use of the automatic block, the ideal system, wrecks are impossible. Trains dare not enter a "block" until it has been cleared, and there is a certain amount of "space" between it and the preceding train.

Automatic Ideal System.

"Of course," continued Representative Esch, "the ideal system is the automatic block. With it human agency is not employed, and there are no overworked operators to go to sleep or to forget to pull the block. But as a beginning we cannot expect to get automatic blocks everywhere, for it is mighty expensive, and we must have some consideration for the railroads.

"It is my plan that the installation of this system be stretched over a period of years. I believe that the block system should be first established on the most congested lines, and should extend under specified regulations and time limits to the less used lines and branches.

"We now have 225,000 miles of railways in the United States of which about 42,000 miles is protected by the block system. Of this amount, very little is of the automatic type.

Commission Investigating.

"The last congress passed a resolution authorizing the commerce commission to investigate, during this summer, the workings of the block system, and we expect they will be ready to report by the time congress meets. They will undoubtedly have a mass of statistics and information which will be of great assistance to us in determining our course of action.

Investigation of Wrecks.

"Another measure which I believe to be of general importance along the general line of the promotion of safety in travel," said Mr. Esch, "is my bill making it a duty of the interstate commerce commission to investigate railroad wrecks. This bill I shall re-introduce at the forthcoming term of congress.

"I believe that if a thorough investigation is made of wrecks by the interstate commerce commission it will show us the weaknesses of the railroads and will enable us to prescribe a remedy.

Down to the Roadbed.

"In the promotion of safety on railways we must look below and under the heads of the systems. We must get down to the roadbed, the ties, the rails and the essentials, before we can accomplish the elimination of wrecks. If a wreck is due to poor rails, to rotten ties, or to a poor roadbed, the commerce commission should be able to determine the facts enabling us to decide what shall be done to remedy the situation.

"And I believe that the railroads will themselves coincide with this plan, for it is a fact that truth does them less harm than the exaggerated reports which are circulated when officials refuse to give out details of disasters. In fact many of the railroads are already adopting the system of instructing their employees to give out correct reports on accidents. Employees of the Erie system have been instructed by the head offices to give out correct information in case of accident, and the officials of that road say they find it much better than trying to conceal the facts, and having exaggerated reports circulated broadcast.

Steel Frame Cars.

"Another portion of my plan of improvement of service and promotion of safety is the adoption of steel frame cars. I believe these of much importance.

"Many roads are already trying out the steel frame construction, and I believe are finding it very satisfactory, and not so costly that it is not a distinct advantage over the old system. All of the interurban cars of the Illinois Central are of steel frame construction, and the Santa Fe road has ordered postal cars with a steel underframe, which will prevent crushing or telescoping in a wreck.

"President Fred Underwood of the Erie wrote me just the other day that the Erie has had an all steel car in operation for several months, and that the system was meeting with approval.

Has Influential Support.

Asked as to the reception and action he anticipated for his bills Mr. Esch said:

"The interstate commerce commission is behind the bills. At the time my eight-hour law was signed last session, I received expressions from various members of the commission, and I am certain that my bills will have the backing of the entire commission.

Government Supervision.

"There is a strong sentiment," continued Mr. Esch, "for governmental inspection, and supervision of the working end of the railroads, the roadbed, ties, bridges and rails. President Roosevelt referred to this in one of his speeches he made on his river trip. I am of the opinion that with some sort of government inspection and control of this part of the railroad wrecks will become a thing of the past. Roadbeds should come up to a fixed governmental standard, ties should be watched and standardized, bridges should be as prescribed by government inspectors, and there should be no wrecks from defective rails."

Representative Esch is zealous in his efforts in this direction, and is most optimistic of success for his efforts.

Though he has been working for the betterment of railway service for several terms of congress, the real recognition of his efforts came when he framed with President Roosevelt and Representative Townsend the famous Esch-Townsend regulation bill.

REBATING ONCE HAD ROAD'S SANCTION

MOTH-EATEN INSTRUCTIONS TO AGENTS FOUND

OFFICERS RESERVED RIGHTS

Rate Commission Digs Up Document Showing That Special Rates Were Not Uncommon in '67

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 29.—(Special.)—That rebates were apparently once openly sanctioned by what has come to be known as the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul road, was discovered today when the rate commission run onto a "Guide to Agents," issued on July 17, 1867, by the Western Union railroad, which afterward merged into the "Milwaukee" line.

The moth eaten list of instructions containing the classification of freight covers one sheet of paper about a yard square. It was found to be such a curious document because of its provisions that the commission has had it framed.

Rule 22 provides: "Agents using unauthorized special rates in way-billing freight will be held responsible for any undercharge occasioned thereby, and the amount of such deficiency will be charged to them as prepaid freight."

This in effect shows that either the agents had been rebating to shippers, or else that the officers of the company reserved to themselves to make any rebates. In this present age with so many statutes making it a crime punishable with a heavy fine to deviate at all from the posted schedule of rates, such a provision in the instructions of the railroad company appears ludicrous.

The classification contained about 200 articles named, and covered a sheet about the size of an ordinary sheet of paper, a foot square. Today the official classification used on the railroads in Wisconsin, as well as all other states north of the Ohio and east of the Mississippi river, contains 300 pages of similarly closely printed matter.

Another provision was that a car could not be loaded in excess of 20,500 pounds, without paying double rates in every instance for all excess. "This rule must be rigidly enforced." Today the capacity of the cars is as high as 140,000 pounds.

It is also interesting to note that the minimum rate for package freight at that time was 25 cents. A few weeks ago the railroads of the state raised this to 40 cents, but have since been compelled by a ruling of the railroad commission to return to the old rate which had been in force for over 40 years.

The list of instructions of this old road were signed by D. A. Olin, general superintendent, and Fred Wild, general freight agent.

What became the Western Union railroad was organized in 1852 and built a line from Racine to Delevan in 1855 and a year later to Beloit. It was then known as the Racine, Janesville & Mississippi Railroad company. It became financially embarrassed and was surrendered to the bond holders in 1859, who completed it to Freeport, during the year. Afterwards it built to the Mississippi river at Savannah and then to Rock Island. In 1866 it was sold and reorganized under the name of the Western Union railroad, which later sold to the Milwaukee road.

LOSS OF HER PUP MADE WOMAN ILL

URGES HUSBAND TO CAUSE ARREST OF NEWLANDS

CANINE FOLLOWED HIM AWAY

Alleged Abductor of Pet Says He Did Not Take Dog and Is Willing to Return it to Stop Cast.

If a dog follows you away from its home, and refuses to heed its master's call to return, are you guilty of larceny?

John Strand, 1717 George street, says your are. Thomas M. Newlands, alleged thief, is equally certain that you are not guilty, and should not be arrested.

Perhaps Strand is not sure of his point, but when a man's wife is taken sick by the loss of the canine Strand believes this fact should be considered. He acted accordingly, swearing out a warrant for the arrest of Newlands on a charge of petit larceny a few days ago.

Newlands is willing to return the dog, since he has returned home and the dog followed him back. The warrant probably would not have been secured, if Mrs. Strand was not made ill by the disappearance of the canine, a great family pet. When Mrs. Strand was taken ill, she persuaded her husband to swear out the warrant for Newlands.

When Sheriff Burns accosted Newlands, warrant in hand, the defendant asked if it would be all right to return the dog. The sheriff said nothing but developments tend to prove that the case will be dismissed on return of the fido.

The alleged theft occurred on Oct. 25, and the warrant was sworn out the following day. Newlands claims he was going out on the river and the dog followed him, and refused to return. When he came back the dog also returned.

The dog is described as a black and tan, valued at $10. A dog collar, valued at $1, also is alleged to have been stolen at the same time.

GREEN BAY AND N. W. HEARING MEAN THOUSANDS OF DOLLARS TO CITY OF LA CROSSE

Northwestern leaves La Crosse too late to make connections with the eastbound Green Bay out of Winona at Marshland, arriving at the latter place 45 minutes after the Winona train has left for Trempealeau. As there is no connection on the Burlington from La Crosse with this Green Bay train, and as the Green Bay runs no trains out of La Crosse over its Onalaska line, there is no way for the people who came in on the morning train to get back.

Proposed Change.

The purpose of the hearing sought by Speaker Ekern before the state railroad commission is (1) to secure a change in the train schedules so that the morning Green Bay, by coming 10 minutes earlier, can make connection, and (2) to change the night schedule so that the eastbound train into Trempealeau valley shall start enough later to connect with the northbound Northwestern out of La Crosse, thus making a direct connection and permitting the entire valley to enjoy one-day round trip traffic facilities to La Crosse.

Higbee Makes Suggestion.

To this plan Mr. E. C. Higbee has suggested a change that will be advantageous to the people of Trempealeau. It is that the difference in time of arrival at Marshland between the northbound Northwestern and the eastbound Green Bay be split, the Northwestern leaving La Crosse a few moments earlier and the Green Bay leaving Winona a few moments later, so that the arrival of passengers at their homes in the valley towns will not be delayed to any material extent.

Gavney Fighting Plan.

The plan of Mr. Ekern to secure this change in the schedule is not to go through without serious opposition. The railroads are against it, and word comes to La Crosse that Hon. John C. Gavney, attorney for the Northwestern at Whitehall, is busy engineering a campaign against it. He is said to be enlisting the support of traveling salesmen, on the theory that the few moments delay in arrival at the Trempealeau valley towns will discomfite them. While there is little in this, unless the overwhelming advantage to both Trempealeau valley and La Crosse is made plain and the preference of the great majority of the public rendered apparent, the fight might be won and the change defeated. Mr. Higbee's amendment would quite remove the salesmen's objection.

Protect Green Bay Feeder.

The reason for the opposition is said, on good authority, to be that the stock of the Green Bay is largely owned by the stockholders of the Northwestern, who are using the Green Bay for a feeder, and that the changes will divert some business from the Northwestern to the Burlington, and will put the Green Bay and Northwestern at a disadvantage in the matter of their mixed stock, freight and passenger.

Must Pay Whewl-age.

To the suggestion that the Green Bay itself afford connections with its Winona eastbound evening train through a stub from La Crosse, the railroad answer is that the Green Bay owns track only from Onalaska to La Crosse, and would have to pay the Northwestern wheelage from Marshland to Onalaska.

RHEUMATISM

BLOOD FILLED WITH URIC ACID

Rheumatism comes from an excess of uric acid in the blood. This acid circulating through the system acts as an irritant to the different muscles, nerves, bones and tissues of the body, and produces the inflammation and swelling of the joints and the sharp, cutting pains characteristic of the disease. When the blood is overburdened with uric acid it continually grows weaker and more acid, and poorer in nourishing qualities. Then Rheumatism becomes chronic, and not only a painful, but a formidable and dangerous disease. Sometimes the heart is attacked, the general health is affected, and the oils and fluids which lubricate the muscles and joints are destroyed by the acid matter which the blood is constantly depositing in them; the muscles shrink and lose their elasticity, the coating of the joints becomes hard and thick, and often the sufferer is left a hopeless cripple. S. S. S. attacks the disease at its head, goes down into the circulation, and by neutralizing and removing the uric acid from the circulation and building up the thin, acid blood, cures Rheumatism permanently. S. S. S. changes the sour, acid-burdened blood to a rich, healthy stream which quiets the excited nerves, eases the throbbing, painful muscles and joints, and filters out of the system the irritating matter which is causing the pain and inflammation. Begin the use of S. S. S. now and get the cause out of your blood so that the cold and dampness of Winter will not keep you in constant pain and misery. Book on Rheumatism and any medical advice free.

PREPARES ORATION FOR OWN FUNERAL

"JIMMIE" DURKIN DOES WORK FOR RELATIVES

ALSO PURCHASES MONUMENT

Blanks Spaces are Left for Filling in Time of Death—Minister Adds "Man of His Word."

FERGUS FALLS, Minn., Oct. 29.—Friends of James Durkin, who formerly resided in Perham, this county, are considerably amused over reports are being published in Western papers regarding his latest exploit there. Mr. Durkin has had a monument erected for himself in Green wood cemetery, in Seattle, with the simple inscription, "Jimmie Durkin, born 1853. Died ———. A minister said, 'A man of his word.'"

The date of his death is necessarily blank as he is still very much alive.

The story of the minister's remark is to the effect that a minister of Seattle denounced the window display in his saloon, and Durkin, hearing of it, invited him to come down and decorate the window himself. He did so, and finding that Durkin permitted him to decorate as he pleased, in accordance with his agreement, he declared that he was a man of his word.

Durkin has also employed an attorney to prepare his funeral oration, making all arrangements in advance so as to save his family trouble when his time comes.

POSTMASTER IS FINED

SIOUX FALLS S. D., Oct. 29.—John L. Morrow, former postmaster at Rudolph, Brown county, appeared before Judge Carland of the United States court and entered a plea of guilty to information charging him with irregularities in his accounts with the government.

The charge was that he made a false return on the amount of postage stamps, stamped envelopes, postal cards and newspaper and periodical stamps canceled and other sales of his office in order to increase his compensation as postmaster.

Judge Carland imposed a fine of $25, which Morrow paid.

Most of the estate, valued at $6,500, is divided according to the will of the husband of Mrs. Casuro, who died in 1874 or 1875.

IRON ORE DOCKS SLIP INTO RIVER

MILWAUKEE COMPANY MEETS
WITH BIG LOSS

MEN NARROWLY ESCAPE

Collapse Occurs on Sabbath When Employees are Absent—Mass of Wreckage Now in Stream.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Oct. 29.—Weighted down with 50,000 tons of iron ore, seventy-five feet of the huge docks of the Thomas Furnace company collapsed and slid into the Kinnickinnic river Sunday night. The immense pile of ore sweeping into the river, carried with it a hundred and fifty feet of steel trestle-work, twisting the overhead tracks of the ore carriers into a mass of shapeless wreckage and causing the company a loss of over $5,000.

Sunday night there were over 50,000 tons of ore on hand in the company's yards.

Sunday Observance Saves Lives

Every available inch of space had been utilized for the storing of the ore and great heaps rose up from the water's edge. The immense weight proved too much for the docks. Without warning the piling crashed and the entire structure slid into the river to a distance of twenty feet.

Only the hour and the day prevented the loss of many lives. A large force of men is constantly employed on the ore-carriers and docks and had those men been at work, either on the great steel structure when it fell or on the docks when the ore mass slid over them, loss of life would have been inevitable.

WISCONSIN OWNS 565,849 HORSES

STATE ALSO HAS 2,877 MULES
IN CONFINES

REPORTS ARE CONFUSING

Census Takers Get Bigger Totals,
While Assessors are Fooled in Levying Value of Estates.

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 29.—(Special.)—There are 565,849 horses and 2,877 mules in the state. These are figures from the report of the assessors which are used by the state tax commission in determining the value of the property of the state.

The average value of the horses as fixed by the local assessors was $61.05, which is now considered too low in view of both the scarcity of horses and the uniformly high prices which are being received upon the markets. There are 205,464 neat cattle valued at $17.61; 603,210 sheep valued at $2.55; and 588,198 valued at $6.34 each.

These figures are taken from the assessors' reports of 1906, but the estimates received thus far this year show some improvement in the value fixed upon livestock. There is a wide margin of difference between the reports of the assessors and those of the census takers. Generally the census figures are greatly in excess of the assessors' figures, due largely to the fact that in the one case, there is no reason for withholding the facts from the census taker, while in the other the man owning the property is compelled to pay taxes at least upon the items he reports to the assessor.

The 1906 assessors' reports showed 340,203 wagon, carriages and sleighs; 1,310 watches, 31,452 pianos and 4,493 organs and melodians. The reason so few watches are reported is that according to a state law, only watches of a certain value are considered and the same is often true of figuring in the organs and pianos with the aggregate worth of household furniture.

THE WEST IS FOR "BOB" LA FOLLETTE

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 29.—"Senator La Follette is the greatest man in this country today. I feel that this country should endorse the administration of President Roosevelt by electing the president for another term, if he desires the election. But if he does not desire re-election, my choice for president is Robert M. La Follette."

Attorney C. F. M. Pickard, Kansas City, Mo., formerly a well-known lawyer in Wisconsin, now an attorney at Kansas City and superintendent of western claims for the National Surety company, expresses himself as above in writing to a friend in Milwaukee. He also says:

"I travel all over the west, from the Mississippi to the coast, and everywhere I go I hear the people singing the praises of Senator La Follette. His name is heard in the west more than any other man in public life today, except the president, and, without a doubt, he is the choice, next to President Roosevelt, of the people in the west for the next president."

BLIND RESIDENTS ASK AID OF STATE

CHIPPWA FALLS, Wis., Oct. 29.—County Clerk Horn was surprised to receive an application from Mrs. Hattie H. Hackett of the town of Auburn, asking for an annual pension of $100 from the county because she was blind. After a search of the laws enacted by the last legislature it was found that a provision, as stated in Mrs. Hackett's affidavit, had been provided. According to this statute any person who has resided in this state ten years and in the county three years and is not receiving any previous aid from the state or county, may receive a pension of $100 a year from the county in which he resides.

The stranger ordered Schulze, at the point of a revolver, to hand over the money he carried, and Schulze was about to do so when the stranger turned his attention to the horses and Schulze struck the man a blow on the head, knocking him from the wagon, and then drove away. The attempt to rob Schulze took place a mile south of South Milwaukee.

ARSON IS CHARGED

TONY, Wis., Oct. 29.—Joseph Haasi was placed under arrest and held in $1,000 bonds, charged with attempting to burn his saloon building in the village of Bruce, Rusk county. Fire was noticed by residents, who broke into the place, and found that oil had been used in the whisky room, and Haasi, the owner, had left town, which led to his speedy arrest. The building was insured for $900.

Wasn't Asking Much.

A florist in Philadelphia was one day making the rounds of his properties near that city when he was approached by a young man, who applied to him for work.

"I am sorry," said the florist, "but I have all the help I need. I have nothing to do for you."

"Sir," said the young man with a polite bow, "if you only knew how very little work it would take to occupy me!" —Success Magazine.

BLAMES MARGINS FOR STOCK FLURRY

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—William E. Curtis, writing for the Chicago Record-Herald, says: The trouble on Wall street during the past week would never have occurred if speculation on margins were not possible. It was entirely a gamblers' flurry, and the crisis was caused by gamblers whose confidence in the prices of the stocks they held was shaken by the collapse of the copper conspiracy and the utterances of the president and who proceeded to get rid of them at the best prices possible. This lack of confidence was communicated to the innocent public. The gamblers went around with long faces and despondent utterances and predicted the ruin of the world. Without thinking of Helze and his crowd they denounced the president for destroying the private credit of the country and for disturbing confidence when he did nothing more than declare that dishonest men should be punished, rich as well as poor.

EDITOR DYING, VIC TIM OF BLACK HAND

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—Frederick A. Milti, banker, former editor of "Il Progresso Italo-Americano," and the inveterate enemy of all "Black Hand" organizations, was fatally wounded Saturday night in the presence of scores of persons at One Hundred and Forty-ninth street and Third avenue. Mr. Milti was slashed with a razor and is dying in Lincoln hospital.

The banker was attacked by Frank Amenlow. The would-be assassin, who is now in a cell, is believed by the police to be one of a gang of "Black Hand" men delegated to take the life of Mr. Milti.

A good many people think they have done their duty by a friend in trouble when they tell him not to worry.
